Additional News by the Pony.

By the arrival of the Pacific yesterday morning we have the following additional pony news.

On the 16th September the N. Y. Tribune states that preparations for two important movements against the Southern coast are rapidly going forward, so that the expeditions will be ready to set sail in a few weeks. In one of these expeditions the land forces will probably be under the command of Major General Butler; and the other, under the command of Brigadier-General Sherman, who is now in command of an important camp at Hampstead. The number of troops of all arms employed in the two expeditions, will be about 25,000 men, with naval forces of appropriate strength.

It is reported that martial law was proclaimed at Buenos Ayres, on the 12th instant.

The Confederates made an advance on Elkwater, Va., with a force of 15,000, but have been driven back by detachments of the 15th Indiana and the 3d and 6th Ohio regiments. A strong force of Arkansas, Tennessee and Virginia troops threaten on the east side of Cheat Mountain. A shell from one of Loomis' guns into the enemy's camp from a distance of two miles, killed 10 and wounded 4. The 13th Indiana regiment had several skirmishes with superior numbers of the enemy on the evening of the 12th September, and killed 12. There was only a trifling loss on our side. As the enemy advanced on the Elkwater, the column was handsomely checked by the 17th Indiana.

The schooner "Mary Wood," from the West Indies, owned in North Carolina, arrived at Philadelphia on the 16th September, in charge of the prizemaster, with a cargo of salt, sugar and molasses. She was captured off Hatteras. It is stated that one schooner lately captured at Hatteras Inlet, was from Boston, with a cargo of boots and shoes.

The light house on the body of the island, and that on Negon Inlet, had been blown up by the rebels.

The bark "Charles Brewer," and schooners "Mary E. Hopkins," "F. H. Russell" and "Julia A. Rich," were seized at New York on the 17th September.

At Pittsburg, on the 16th, 29 subscribers to the National Loan took $145,900.

Reports at Washington on the 16th September say that the rebels assert that they would take Arlington Heights and Alexandria this week with 200,000 men, and from these shell Washington.

A message was received by the House, at Frankfort, Kentucky, on the 13th September, from Gov. Magoffin, communicating telegraphic dispatches from Gen. Zollicoffer, announcing that the safety of Tennessee demanded the occupation of Cumberland Gap, and three long mountains of Kentucky, and that he had done so, and should retain his position until the Federal forces were withdrawn and the Federal camps broken up. He also communicated a message from Thomas C. Reynolds, Lieutenant-Governor of Missouri, asking what course Kentucky intended to take in view of the occupation of the Mississippi river, below the Ohio, by Federal forces, in violation of her neutrality.

The Republicans of New York concluded to abandon their organization, and take up good, sound Union men in the coming local election. Gen. Theodore Runyon, who was a Douglas Elector, is a prominent candidate for Mayor. The "Peace" party made up their nominations complete, sustaining the Government, the full force of which may be appreciated when it is known that their candidate for Mayor expressed an opinion that this war on the part of the South was as just and holy as was ours of the Revolution.

The Legislature of Maryland met on the 16th of September; no quorum.

No Secession ordinance was prepared, and none can be passed. The Maryland Secessionists have nothing to hope for from the Legislature.

The steamer "Sunshine" was seized by the rebels at Glasgow, Mo. The steamer "Sioux City" was attacked at Glasgow, but escaped.

It was rumored at Washington on the 17th that an offer of our Government to accept the proposition of the Paris Conference in reference to privateering had been rejected by the European powers. The report was not confirmed.

Government has purchased all woods bordering on the avenue from Washington to the Relay House, to be cut and transported to Washington for fuel.

Information has been received stating that several tribes of savages offered to enroll themselves in the ranks of the enemy. The penalty of this treasonable action will be total forfeiture of their annuities.

Advices from Richmond say that the Hon. L. P. Walker, Secretary of War, has resigned in consequence of bad health. A successor has not yet been appointed.

All the banks at New Orleans have suspended specie payment.

On the 17th, Treasury Notes were all at par.

St. Joseph, September 21.—At half-past 8 in the night of the 19th, a train consisting of four passenger cars, one box and one baggage car, went through a bridge on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad near Huron, Ind., 146 miles west of Cincinnati. The cars contained 100 men of companies E, F, G and I, of Colonel Turchin's 19th Illinois Regiment. Thirty dead bodies have already been taken from the wreck. There is an impression that from 40 to 50 persons were killed, and 100 wounded. Circumstances seem to indicate that the bridge was tampered with by malicious persons. The bridge is sixty feet span, 10 feet high, and had lately been inspected.

Information derived from a deserter states that Jeff. Thompson's force, opposite Columbus, is 2,300 strong; and that they are ragged, shoeless, short of provisions, and it is anticipated that they will disband.

Postmaster General Blair returned to Washington from Missouri on the 10th. Quiet prevailed at all points of the Potomac.

It is ascertained at the Department of State that hereafter communication between the British Government and its Consuls at the ports of the Confederate States will, with the consent of our Government, be carried on British vessels of war. This course will abate the embarrassments that have hitherto attended these communications through other channels.

The Union men in both Houses of the Maryland Legislature refused to meet on the morning of the 18th. The Legislature is virtually dead; all the officers being under arrest to prevent the calling of the roll. The Union members were to leave that afternoon. The talk of invasion by Genl. Johnson was laughed at.

Ben McCollough was reported to be rapidly advancing on Jefferson City from Springfield, with from 20,000 to 30,000 well armed and well drilled troops. Hot work is in prospect. They are prepared to meet them. Osage Bridge is the first point threatened.

Russel of the London Times is coming west on a shooting tour.

Gen. McClellan's body guard is increased to 158, and the uniform changed to his wish.

Should Fremont be superseded, it will not be on account of his proclamation, but because before and since its appearance his energy has not kept pace with his language. A Cabinet Council was held on Fremont's case on the 18th. Quartermaster Meigs made a report, but no conclusion was reached.

Scouts this morning report that a strong column of rebels are on the march northward from Lexington. Their supposed destination is St. Joseph. Organized companies of Kansas militia were ordered to rendezvous in this city immediately.

St. Joseph, Sept. 22—10 A. M.—General McClellan was to arrive at Darnestown, Md., on the 19th, on his way to review the army of the Upper Potomac.

Reports about Gen. Johnston crossing the Potomac are unfounded. There is much alarm at Martinsburg and Winchester about Banks crossing the Potomac with 21,000 men. The rebels sent to Johnston for assistance on the 19th.

Martin W. Barr, telegraph news reporter of the New Orleans Associated Press, was arrested on a treason, or complicity with traitors. The prisoners were carried to Jeffersonville, to be transferred to the custody of the Marshal of the 2d District.

Later reports from Lexington, Mo., state that that city was taken on Tuesday. There were 4,000 Federal troops at Boonsville, besides Home Guards.

A deserter from Munson's Hill, Va., reports that the rebel army is not larger than 100,000. They have no intention of attacking, or are afraid of the Federal forces.

The funeral of soldiers killed by accident on the railroad, took place at Cincinnati.

The coffins were placed in vaults subject to the order of friends. The wounded are doing well. Surgeons think they will all recover.

Gov. Morton, of Indiana, has been at Louisville in consultation with Gen. Anderson.

Reports from Cairo assert that 11,000 rebels have taken possession of Marysville, Ky., and that fortifications are going on by Jeff. Thompson's force. Some 12,300 men are at New Madrid.

The Democratic New York State Central Convention, at Albany, on the 16th, adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the course of the President in promptly overruling the assumption of General Fremont to transcend laws, and limiting his action within the line of his legitimate authority, meets with our unqualified approval.

It is thought that any change in the heads of Departments may seriously check enlistments throughout the Northwestern States, and operate against taking the National Loan by Western citizens, while General Fremont's proclamation, if carried out, will give both a great impetus. This proclamation is believed to be the real cause of Fremont's removal, notwithstanding the support given him by the Cabinet. The matter is still under consideration by the President.

The subscription to the National Loan at Chicago on the 19th, amounted to $13,000.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 4, 1861.

Oregon Agricultural State Fair.

SECOND DAY.

By noon of the second day of the Fair the various departments have assumed something near the completeness that was expected; particularly in the class of articles of taste, Natural History, photographic art, and the ornamental work of the needle. All the cribs and stalls provided for live-stock were filled, and if all who had stock worthy of exhibition had brought it in the conveniences would not have sufficed for a tithe of it. We happen to know of plenty of fine stock that the owners have, in very bad taste withheld from exhibition. On such occasions we expect a true exposition of our material interests and have a right to complain if we do not get it.

Entries continued to be made until two o'clock, when the books were given into the hands of the various committees; and from the interest manifested by these arbiters of the fortunes of the exhibitors we expect a series of awards that will give satisfaction.

The Fair grounds presented an animated appearance during the day, and the number of ladies present was not the least attraction of the day. The threatening appearance of weather on the first day having given place to bright sunshine, the weakest ran no hazard of health in turning out. We look upon the social effect of the State Fairs as one of the principal considerations in holding them. Great numbers of persons are thus brought to know each other, and the crust of reserve is broken, not unfrequently to give rise to happy social, if not domestic, relations. This, more than any one thing, has been needed in this country. We have lived like tortoises, each in his own shell, and something was needed to create a current. This the annual State Fair will do.

About three o'clock the concourse of people adjourned to the race-course to see a trial of speed between a Veto and a Lummix colt—single dash of a mile. The track is nearly an oval, with a slight descent on the home-stretch. It lies just west of the Fair grounds, the home-stretch coming out within a hundred yards of the buildings. The ground is an old field partially cleared, and although much work is done on it, more remains to do before it can be accounted even passable.

The running scarcely deserves notice, certainly not a lengthy description. The horses got off pretty well together, the Veto in the lead which he held all the way around—Turning into the second quarter there was a pretty brisk brush, the Lummix colt going up to his competitor handsomely, but from this out the race degenerated into a gallop, the Veto colt coming in about as far ahead as a man could throw a finger-stone. Such running does no credit to owners or horses, when it is known that the colts could have run to admiration had they been pushed. After this, a trotting nag went around the track in four or five minutes, and then the crowd dispersed.

A short address, by Simeon Francis, was delivered during the afternoon.

THE EXHIBITION.

As we enter the Fair Grounds and pass the Secretary's Office, the various tables and cases intended for the display of articles commence; and as these are not arranged according to the classification, we prefer to take them as they come, rather than by the classes, commencing at the first. The first collection comes under the head of

NATURAL HISTORY, MINING PRODUCTS, ARTS AND HOME WORK.

A number of glass cases containing specimens of machine sewing first attract attention. These are the handi-work of Mr. F. C. Pomeroy the agent of Wheeler & Wilson's sewing machines. Of these a white dress is a specimen of fancy stitching and tucking, another of plain sewing, and two fancy specimens of stitching. These are marvels of elegance, and if done by hand would require months of labor each. They were done by Wheeler & Wilson's machines, of which Mr. Pomeroy had a number on the ground. An embroidered white scarf by Miss Skaife of Salem was much admired, and a bed quilt made by Mrs. E. White of Portland was in good taste and a handsome specimen of plain work. A linen handkerchief, embroidered by Miss Wilcox of Portland was very fine,—too much so for service. Buchtel & Cardwell's display of works of photography comes next, and finer pictures can be found no where. A part of their collection of animals and birds was there, and a portion of their cabinet of minerals, but the display is nothing like as good as that at their rooms in this city. Mrs. Geo. H. Williams exhibits a rather creditable painting in oil, representing river and mountain scenery. Mrs. A. E. Waite exhibits one in oil—a hunting scene. The coloring is fine, and true to nature. A cougar lies dead at the hunter's feet. The ruling passion being strong in death, the cougar has a most savage look.—The hunter sits beside him, and appears to be quite placid and inoffensive. A dog by the side of the master would scarcely be expected to bay anything more dangerous than a deer. However it is a good commencement and that is half the battle. A specimen of ornamental penmanship by W. L. White was very fine. Dr. Skiff of Salem, and Dr. H. H. Black of Portland, exhibited cases containing specimens of mechanical dentistry. A specimen of printing—a pamphlet—from the Farmer office, was, like everything from their type and press—good. A large number of specimens of tidies, rugs, needle-work, shirts, stockings, embroidery, &c. came next. Some specimens were labeled and others not. The names of Mesdames J. Byrnes, J. W. Miller and Caroline Walker with that of Miss Philomena Mathieu were attached to too many to specify and all were worthy of minute examination and praise. Besides, there was a large number of articles claimed by no one, as far as we could find out. A pencil sketch by M. J. Lansdale (Miss or Mrs.?) was a credit to the designer. A very unique design, a picture frame by Miss Frank Holmes of Oregon City, attracted much attention. It was composed entirely of the burrs of various kinds of pine tastefully and symetrically arranged, producing an effect from such simple material that shows consummate art. A lady's work-box by the same lady, out of the same material was even more remarkable. The number of articles exhibited by Miss Philomene Matthieu is a credit to her industry and in design were excellent. We noticed a design for embroidered slippers, a work-basket, designs in embroidery and many others all well executed. If all had done as well who know how to do, this department would have been a miracle of elegance. Specimens of embroidery on linen by Mrs. A. E. Waite was pretty and not too fine for use. A picture frame garnished with oak-leaves by Miss Jenny Gaines was in fine taste. But the finest thing was a scene in the middle ages in embroidery, by Mrs. Hodge, representing knights and men at arms reclining beneath trees—a castle in the distance, and a female figure. The subject we did not learn, and had no one to explain it, but from recollection supposed it to represent a wounded knight reclining amid his followers. But the merit of such pieces is not in design altogether—elegance of finish, color, shading and perspective forming the chief merits, and on these points it is difficult to excel. Besides the articles mentioned there were many worthy of notice, but one particularly; Mrs. Wm. Barlow exhibited a silk bed-quilt designed as a present to Mrs. Lincoln. It has the motto—"To President Lincoln, from Mrs. Wm. Barlow, Oregon, 1861." "E Pluribus Unum." A fine display of Salem goods is included in this department.

FRUITS, FLOWERS, PLANTS, DESIGNS, &c.

These articles come under the head of class 8. The exhibit included an extensive assortment of apples, pears, plumbs, peaches, cherries, blackberries, grapes, &c. This department is well filled but not near so well as it ought to be when we think of the fact that it is the one in which Oregon excels. A very pretty collection of dried grains and grasses by Mrs. Steele, in a vase, adorned this collection, and a magnificent display of dahlias by Wm. Simmons of Salem.

DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES.

This is class 6. It contained samples of home-made bread, by Mrs. Behrens, M. J. Lansdale, Mrs G. W. Naylor, and Chapman & Warner, (baker's bread), Mrs. D. W. McCoy and Mollie L. Holmes. There were crackers, navy bread, sweet biscuit and many other of the keeping qualities of bread, by R. Pittock & Co. Andrew J. Dufur had samples of his fine butter—fresh, and in the firkin—and Mr. Loughlin, specimens of fresh butter—cheese of Mr. Dufur's make—weighing, from fifty to sixty-five pounds,—and some of smaller size from the dairy of Mr. A. Gleason. There was wine from Oregon grapes put up by Mr. Keil of Aurora, and some flour, from the Standard, Oregon City, Island and Mill Creek Mills.

THIRD DAY.

The awards of the various committees were all made by two o'clock, and the books returned to the Secretary's office. Judge Thornton delivered an interesting discourse, during the afternoon. The assemblage of people was very great—over fifteen hundred being present at one time.

Towards four o'clock, the trotting match between Soda Boy, Blackhawk, and Paul Jones, came off. The single mile was made in about three minutes—Soda first, Paul second, and Blackhawk last. Soda did some very responsible running, and it was determined to give him a chance to beat Blackhawk at trotting. The two heats which constituted this trial of speed, were not remarkable, except that in coming in on the second Blackhawk did some of his honest trotting, and as pretty as one could wish to see. He won both heats, and whatever cash was bet.

Battle of Summerville.

CLARKSBURG, (Va.) Sept. 12.—A battle took place about eight o'clock Tuesday afternoon, near Summerville. Gen. Rosencranz, after making a reconnoisance, found Floyd's army 6,000 strong, with sixteen field pieces, intrenched in a powerful position on the top of a mountain at Carnix Ferry, on the west side of Gauley river. The rear and extreme of both flanks were inaccessible, and the front was masked by heavy forests and close jungle. Colonel Lytle's Tenth Ohio Regiment of Benham's Brigade was on the advance, and drove a strong detachment of the enemy out of the camp this side of the position, the site of which was unknown. Shortly afterwards his scouts, consisting of four companies, suddenly discovered themselves in the face of a parapet battery, and a long line of palisades for riflemen, when the battle opened fiercely. The remainder of the Tenth and Thirteenth Ohio were brought into action successfully by Gen. Benham, and the Twelfth Ohio afterwards by Capt. Hartsuff, whose object was an armed reconnoissance. The enemy played upon our forces terrifically with musketry, rifle, canister and shell, causing some casualties. Colonel Lytle led several companies of his Irish to charge the battery, when he was brought down by a shot in the leg. Colonel Smith of the Thirteenth Ohio engaged the enemy on the left, and Colonel Lowe's Twelfth Ohio directly in front. Colonel Lowe fell dead at the head of his regiment, early in the hottest fire, by a ball in the forehead. McMullen's howitzer battery and Snider's two field pieces, in the meantime, were got into the best position possible, under the circumstances, and soon silenced two of the rebel guns.

The fire slackened at intervals, but grew more furious as night approached, when the German Brigade was led gallantly into action by Colonel McCook, under the direction of Adjutant General Hartsuff: but after a furious fight of three hours, night compelled the recall of the troops, and the men lay on their arms within a short distance of the enemy, each ready to resume the contest the next morning. Floyd fled during the night, and sunk the boats in the river and destroyed the temporary bridge which he had made when he first occupied the position. The turbulence of the river and exhaustion of the troops made it impossible to follow him. He left his camp equipage, wagons, horses, a large quantity of ammunition, and fifty head of cattle. Our loss is fifteen killed, and about seventy wounded, generally flesh wounds. The rebel loss is not ascertained, as they carried their dead and wounded with them, but it was certainly seriously. Capt. McGreaty of Cincinnati, and Capt. McMullen, also Lieut. Snyder of Ohio, are among the wounded, but not dangerously. Twenty five men of Col. Lytle's, who were taken by Floyd at Cross Lanes, were re-captured. Floyd's personal baggage, with that of his officers, was taken. Gen. Benham's brigade, which suffered the most, was commanded by him in person, and McCook led his brigade. Generals Rosencranz and Benham, Colonels McCook, Lytle and Lowe, Captains Hartsuff, Snyder and McMullen. Major Burke of the Tenth Ohio, and other officers, displayed conspicuous personal gallantry. The troops were exclusively from Ohio, and showed great bravery.

It is thought to be stated with sufficient authority, that so far as the movement of National troops is concerned, there is no probability of a general engagement within thirty days. However, in case they are attacked, there will be a general and severe battle. Our troops are well prepared to meet any number that may be brought against them, but they are perfecting arrangements for an onward movement, and it is deemed best first to accomplish certain things which may not be effectually done in less than thirty days. Matters believed to have no reference to raising men, Government being satisfied that it has all required.

A resolution was passed by the Senate of Kentucky, placing the arms and ammunition of the State under the command of the Federal forces of that State. The House passed the Senate bill to enlarge the powers of the Military Board.

CITY.

Arrival of Pacific.—The Pacific arrived here yesterday morning. The following is her memorandum and passenger list:

Memorandum.—Steamer Pacific, Geo. W. Staples, commander, left San Francisco Sept. 28th, at 6 P. M.; on 29th [illegible] met steamer Cortes bound South; crossed Columbia River bar Oct. 1st, at 10.30 A. M. She had heavy northwest weather the entire passage.

Passengers.—Major S. J. Hensly, Major Redding, Mrs. [illegible] and daughter, Miss Smith, E. Tracy, L. Heath, T. [illegible], Mrs. Sawyer and child, John Scranton, T. [illegible], Dr. C. H. De Wolf, Lieut. Haycock, wife, child [illegible], D. Norton, Wm. Bell, Mrs. Barnhall, W. B. [illegible], F. Butler, D. Magill and wife, Miss M. Odell, [illegible] and wife, R. Hermin, Miss C. H. Hanson, Wm. [illegible] and wife, D. Shaw, S. A. White, D. Richards, J. [illegible], J. Evans, J. McSherry, S. C. Moulton, Messrs. [illegible], Lewis, Purrett, McDermott, Delany, Strader, [illegible], Phillips, Gifford, Peck, McGrath, Burnam, Hill, [illegible], Kelly, Chas. Morgan, (Wells Fargo's [illegible]) and 35 in steerage. J. H. Pooll, Purser.

To Sail.—The U. S. steamer Massachusetts was to sail from Fort Vancouver yesterday evening, for San Francisco. She had received as freight, in addition to that brought from the Sound, thirty-six wagons and five tons military stores.

The Pacific.—This steamer, which has been thoroughly repaired since her late accident in the Columbia River, arrived at this city yesterday morning, bringing a large freight and quite a number of passengers. She sails again this evening for Victoria.

Arrived at San Francisco.—The barks [illegible] and Jane A. Falkinberg had arrived at San Francisco, on the 29th ult.; the former in seven and the latter in four days, from the Columbia River.

A Big Load.—The steamer Express was crowded with passengers, yesterday morning, bound for the Fair Grounds. It is said that there must have been four hundred persons on board.

Marshal Grooms lodged a man in jail last night for drunken and disorderly conduct.

Wreck of the Jeff Davis.—Of the wreck of the Jeff Davis, which vessel, next to the [illegible], was the most active and successful of the rebel pirates, the telegraph must have already informed you. Her crew were all saved, a result that was to have been expected of men who were not born to be drowned. As to the profits of her cruise, I think they will turn out to be very small, as not more than two or three of her prizes are known to have reached in safety a port where they and their cargoes could be turned to advantage. The extreme anxiety which the officers and crew evinced in their attempts to save the [illegible] and rigging of the old hulk, "for the benefit of the stockholders," tells a tolerably plain [illegible]. In that other sort of piracy, the [illegible] the captain, after a successful voyage, does not hesitate to scuttle a noble ship, [illegible] her, with spars and rigging all standing, deep down to Davy's locker. The "stockholders," rich in the proceeds of her voyage, will listen to the tale of the loss of the ship without a murmer.

The Richmond Inquirer, speaking of the wreck of the pirate Jeff Davis, mentioned an [illegible] connected with her career which is entirely new in this quarter. It seems that a short time before she was wrecked, the Jeff Davis captured off the Florida coast the ship John Crawford, which was bound from Philadelphia to Key West, with arms and coal for the Government. The Crawford drawing too much water to be taken into port, it was determined to both scuttle and burn her, which was accordingly done. After burning for two or three hours, the ship finally went down with all her cargo, it being found impossible to secure the arms, as they were stowed under the coal. Her crew were taken on board of the privateer.

Dispatches from Washington say that there is difficulty relative to Fremont's interference in the Blair family. It is from them the charges have emanated. The real secret of the hostility of the Blairs is that Fremont would not permit them to dictate to him, and would not lend himself to a combination of Contractors in New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and elsewhere, who had the patronage. The Postmaster General stated, some days ago, that F. P. Blair, Jr., demanded $1,000,000 of contracts to be given to the combination. Fremont's response was that his duty was to oppose all enemies of the Government, whether they were Southern traitors or Northern schemers.

At Frankfort, Ky., on the 18th, the Committee on Federal Relations reported substantially as follows:

Whereas, Confederate troops have invaded Kentucky and insultingly dictate terms upon which they will retire; therefore, Resolved, That General Anderson be invited to take instant charge of this department, and call out a force sufficient to expel the invaders.

This passed the House, and the Senate concurred by a vote of 24 to 9. The Senate also passed a resolution with only three nays, which propose to confine the war to the two [illegible], and discountenance partisan quarrels, as leading to civil war.

A dispatch has been sent to Gen. Sumner by Gen. Scott, directing him to hold, subject to future orders, not only the Volunteers for the Overland Mail Service, but the five regiments (four of infantry and one of Cavalry) recently ordered to be raised.

Prince De Joinville, with Secretary Seward, witnessed the review of our troops across the Potomac on the 19th. Gen. McClellan conducted the review in person.

☞ Swett's Grape Bitters, or Restorative Wine, manufactured under the supervision of Mrs. A. M. Swett, the celebrated Clairvoyant Physician, and prepared from roots and herbs of great medicinal virtue, combined with the pure juice of the California Grape—a certain remedy for Liver Complaint, Debility, Biliousness, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Impaired Appetite, Impure Breath, &c., and all diseases requiring a powerful Liver Invigorator and Tonic. Warranted the best remedy ever invented for diseases peculiar to females, such as Leucorrœa, or Whites, Weaknesses, &c. Sold by all Druggists, and by DANIEL SWETT, Proprietor, 536 California street, San Francisco. aug6d6m

☞ The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the [illegible] in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most extensive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. Laws of the United States

Passed at the First Session of the Thirty-Seventh Congress

[Public—No 3]

AN ACT to provide for the construction of one or more armored ships and floating batteries, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Navy be and he is hereby authorized and directed to appoint a board of three skilful naval officers to investigate the plans and specifications that may be submitted for the construction or completing of iron or steel clad steam ships or steam batteries, and on their report, should it be favorable, the Secretary of the Navy will cause one or more armored or iron or steel clad steamships or floating steam batteries to be built, and there is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars

Sec 2 And be it further enacted, That in case of a vacancy in the office of engineer-in-chief of the navy the appointment thereto shall be made from the list of chief engineers

Approved, Aug. 3, 1861

[Public—No 5]

AN ACT to amend an act to prohibit the sale of spirituous liquors and intoxicating drinks in the District of Columbia, in certain cases.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled That whenever any person shall be convicted of the offence described in the act entitled "An act to prohibit the sale of spirituous liquors and intoxicating drinks in the District of Columbia in certain cases," he shall be punished by a fine of twenty dollars or imprisonment in the jail of Washington county, in the District of Columbia, for the period of thirty days

Approved, August 3, 1861

[Public—No 30]

AN ACT to provide for the purchase of arms, ordnance, and ordnance stores

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the sum of ten millions of dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purchase and manufacture of arms, ordnance, and ordnance stores

Approved. August 3, 1861

[Public—No 37]

AN ACT to suspend in part the operation of an act entitled "An act relating to revenue cutters and steamers"

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the act of third March, eighteen hundred and forty-five, entitled "An act relating to revenue cutters and steamers," be and the same is hereby so far suspended as to allow the Secretary of the Treasury to apply so much of the appropriation for the collection of the revenue as he may deem expedient, to the charter or purchase of vessels for the revenue service: Provided, That no liability shall be incurred for the purpose herein named, which, together with the expenses of collecting the revenue, shall exceed the appropriation already made for the latter object.

Approved, August 3 1861.
